

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

We met each other online!

Learning Outcome

Understand detailed descriptions of real or imaginary events and experiences in present, past or future and in spoken or written texts.

Ask your partner:

- Would you think about online dating? Why?
- Do you think online dating is better than "normal" dating? Why or why not?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about relationships and personal dilemmas.
- I can discuss hopes and wishes for the present and the future.
- I can talk about what I will have done.

Let's Explore!

My gut feeling tells me I should pick these numbers for the lotto.

* A "gut feeling" is an instinct that you are certain something is right without having proof.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Vanessa: Hello.

Peter: Hello.

Vanessa: Peter. So what happened? I wish you hadn't run off the other day. I wish you would let me help you.

Peter: It's okay. It was my mistake. We have been talking it through. I will be messaging her later today.

Vanessa: What did she say?

Peter: She said she understood that it was a mistake, but she is having second thoughts about meeting me now. Apparently, she is feeling a little gun shy and I can't blame her. I've been explaining my side of the story and I am going to be explaining it as long as she will listen. I'm so embarrassed. I wish I would stop making mistakes like this.

Vanessa: Peter, misunderstandings happen. I wish they wouldn't, but they do. I will have used this site for six months by the time next week rolls around and there were a couple of dates that I wish I had have avoided, but for the most part it's been okay.

Peter: What a comedy of errors.

Vanessa: Peter. How long have you been talking with this person?

Peter: By tomorrow, I'll have chatted with her for a week.

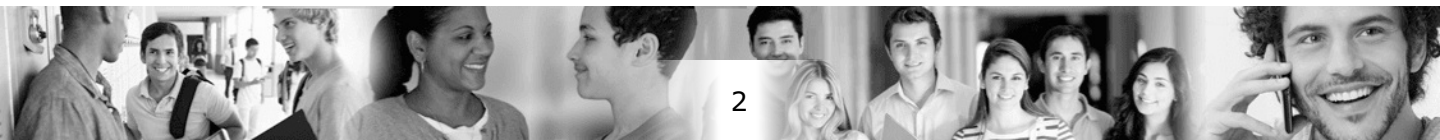

Vanessa: One week. You will have talked to this person for one week! I wish you wouldn't get too worked up over this one girl that you've known for a week. I'm telling you I have a gut feeling about this one.

Peter: Oh boy. Okay. So you think you are going to be messaging after today?

Peter: I hope so.

Vanessa: Then don't give up on her, she sounds like she might come around. That said, there are plenty of other girls out there.

Peter: I wish I would find just one though.

Let's Practice!

Vanessa tells Peter not to lose hope.

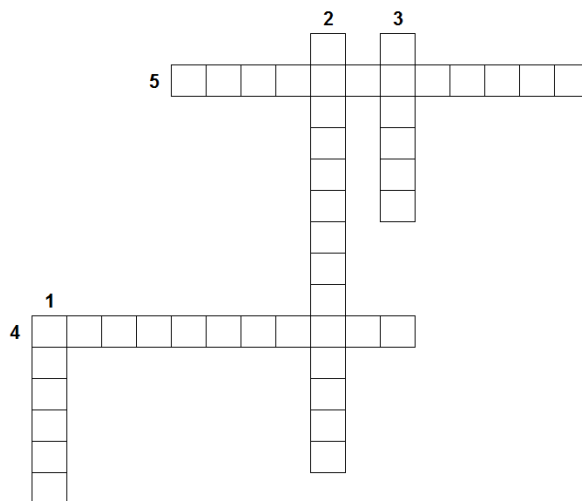

Instructions: Read the clues. Complete the crossword with the missing words.

Down

1. to go away
2. reconsider a situation
3. feel scared or being cautious

Across

4. in a certain period of time
5. feeling disappointed about something

Let's Practice!

Peter talks to Vanessa about his regrets.

Instructions: Choose a word from the word bank. Write down the missing words in each sentence. Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

Word Bank

I could have / you wouldn't get / I hadn't signed / I would find / I hadn't run

1. I wish _____ off the other day.
2. I wish _____ up for this site.
3. There were a couple of dates, I wish _____ avoided, but for the most part it's been okay.
4. I wish _____ too worked up over this one girl that you've known for a week.
5. I wish _____ just one though.

Extension Activity

Find collocations of words like "online dating".

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Look up the meaning of the word collocation.
- With a partner, find an example of a collocation and share with the class.
- In pairs, use a computer to find collocates for the words 'online' and 'dating'. ex) online profile, dating history.
- Find 5 for each word.
- Research each word's meaning and usage.
- Split the partners and get into groups of three.
- Teach each other your new collocations.
- Write down the new words and their definitions.
- Vote on which words are the most useful.

Self-Assessment

Yes No

I research collocations for the words 'online' and 'dating.'

☐ ☐

I research the meaning and usage of each word.

☐ ☐

I teach the new vocabulary to my group members.

☐ ☐

I listen to their new vocabulary and descriptions.

☐ ☐

I vote on which words are the most useful.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- to run off (verb): to flee; to go away
e.g. Don't run off yet, there is still dessert.
- On second thought (noun): changing your opinion after reconsideration e.g. On second thought, I will have a piece of cake.
- gun shy (adjective): scared of doing something e.g. I am a little gun shy about horseback riding after my accident last year.
- rolls around (expression): occurs after a period of time
e.g. When my birthday rolls around next month, I want a big party.
- a comedy of errors (expression): many mistakes
e.g. Both teams played very badly. The whole game was a comedy of errors.
- to be worked up over (expression): to be upset by something e.g. Don't get so worked up over a silly football game.

Learning Points

Wish + (that) + Would

You use "I wish ..." to talk about things you do not have or do, or you cannot have or do. You use wish + would + infinitive to talk about things you would like to change about a situation or a person.

You use wish + would about other people who are doing (or not doing) something that you don't like and that you would like to change. You don't normally use it about yourself or about a situation that nobody can change.

Example:

I wish you wouldn't get too worked up over this girl.

You use wish + the Past Perfect when you want to talk about regrets. These are things that you did that you wish you could change, but cannot.

For example:

I wish I had called earlier.

I wish I hadn't gone out on that date!

Examples:

- I wish you would let me help you.
- I wish I would stop making mistakes like this.
- I wish they wouldn't, but they do.
- I wish you wouldn't get too worked up over this one girl that you've known for a week.

Learning Points

Future Perfect and Future Perfect Continuous

You use the Future Perfect tense to talk about an action in the future before another action in the future. This is the past in the future. You use the Future Continuous to talk about what will be happening at a specific time in the future.

When you use the Future Perfect, you can sometimes think of the Future Perfect tense like the Present Perfect tense, but instead of your viewpoint being in the present, it is in the future.

The Future Perfect has two forms:

will have + past participle, or am/is/are + going to have + past participle

Unlike Simple Future forms, both forms are interchangeable.

For example:

I will have used this site for six months by this time next week.

You're going to have talked to this person for a week.

The Future Continuous can be used with going to.

be going to be + present participle

For example:

I am going to be explaining it as long as she will listen.

So you think you are going to be messaging after today?

Examples:

- I will have used this site for six months by the time next week rolls around.
- By tomorrow, I'll have chatted with her for a week.
- You will have talked to this person for one week!

